TEENDRIVING.COM – THE #1 RANKED WEB SITE FOR TEEN DRIVERS – ENDORSES ROAD SKILLZ

Los Angeles, CA (January 2006) – Teendriving.com, the #1 ranked site for teen drivers and their parents on the Internet, has endorsed Road Skillz, an innovative new driving skills DVD. Aimed at 16 to 25-year-olds, Road Skillz uses well-known racecar drivers – including twenty-three year-old Arie Luyendyk Jr. from the Indy Racing League – to educate teens on how to avoid the most common accidents.

“Teendriving.com has reviewed the new Road Skillz DVD and finds it a motivating program for new drivers,” says Eileen Buckholtz, author and spokesperson for TeenDriving.com. “Arie Luyendyk Jr is an excellent and appealing guide, and the tips, animation and examples will help teens learn valuable driving lessons. We recommend Road Skillz for new drivers and their parents.”

Designed as a learning tool for use in driver education, Road Skillz holds young people’s interest by using rapid scene changes, hip music and great graphics and is the first DVD to feature racecar drivers from multiple leagues.

About Road Skillz

Road Skillz offers parents a great way to get their teens interested in driving safely, and has been endorsed by both the Driving School Association of the Americas (DSAA) and teendriving.com, the #1 ranked site for teen drivers and their parents on the web. Road Skillz is donating 5% of all profits to non-profit organizations that provide teen driving training and education.
